Headmaster

MAY WE, the class of 1937, remember his ever-present friendship and ready counsel; qualities whose value will grow in our appreciation as more intimate contact with the world reveals to us their scarcity.

Foreword

IN PRESENTING this edition of "The Blue and White," it has been the sincere desire of the editors to preserve the very atmosphere of our graduating class within its pages. If we have captured this touch of individuality, if we have in any way made this manuscript truly our own, to be cherished until it yellows and cracks with age, still able to call forth a smile, or perhaps a reminiscent sigh as we turn its leaves, we shall feel that we have accomplished our purpose in producing a worthy memorial of our Senior Class.

"INSIDE THE LINES"

Senior Class Play

Amid the usual flurry and excitement of minor accidents and mislaid properties, the Senior Class Play, "Inside the Lines" was launched on an unprecedentedly successful run in the Riverside Theatre on Thursday, February eighteenth. The first night audience was satisfyingly large;—Friday night saw a full house, even to the stuffy balcony, pay tribute to a really admirable production.

With the whole-hearted cooperation of the Senior Class in selling tickets, and of the Senior girls especially in making candy to be sold between the acts; with the fine work done by the stage hands, and complicated lighting effects managed by Lawrence Ewell; with the untiring work of the cast in the daily rehearsals; with the splendid coaching of Mr. Carey, Earl Derr Bigger's manuscript could not have failed to be, as it was, a "smash hit" at the "box-office."

Among so many fine players, all worthy of mention, a few were particularly outstanding.

Billie Parks, as "Jane Gerson," amply proved her histrionic abilities in her portrayal of this typical American girl. Donald Shedd as "General Crandall" turned in the excellent, polished performance his previous appearances in the Assembly Hall had led us to expect from him. Rosalie Bellitti (who sucked lemons between the acts for an "acting-up" throat) was every inch the charming, gracious hostess as "Lady Crandall." A difficult part was that of "Capper," the "down-and-outer," played by Harry Dustin. His fine interpretation of the character entitled him to the applause he received at his exit. Warren Haley as the courageous, baffling "Captain Woodhouse" made love quiet as well as he handled the secret affairs of nations. John Pacino, the mysterious "Jaihmih Kahn," brought to that difficult character part all the sinister preciseness of the treacherous Indian. And the punishment that boy took when he was man-handled by Captain Woodhouse and the Sergeant!

No mention of the cast could be complete without highest praise for Harold L. Peabody in his role of the American consul. As "Mr. Reynold" the versatile H. Lester delighted and amused his audience. The applause following his several exits was unquestionably warranted.

The other players were all effective in their parts. The pride of Kewanee, "Mr. Henry J. Sherman," was humorously played by Christopher Hursch. Dorothy Walkley as his tired, harassed wife, was well in character throughout. Henry Tweddle, Jr. was "Almer," the Swiss hotel-keeper spy. Joseph Mazmanian was "Major Bishop" whose little plan for the exposure of "Captain Woodhouse" failed and caused a slight "tempest in a teacup." Andrew Plakias as "Fritz," the barber; Geraldine Marshall as "Kitty Sherman;" Frank Pote as "Willie Kimball," the small-town lad grown high-hat; Madeline Linden as "Maria," the Italian cigarette-girl spy; Edward O'Connor as "Sergeant Crosby;" Olive Farnam, as "Nina," "Lady Crandall's" efficient personal maid; William Tobin, the bell-hop in the tricky green uniform; and the soldiers, Joseph Hanlon, Frank McDewell Jr., Wyman Tobin, Joseph Broadbent, formed the well-trained, indispensable supporting cast.

The excitement is over, now. No more pupils are trooping out of the midst of Mr. Irish's classes to mysterious meetings, to his baffled chagrin. And right here the highest praise for such a successful production goes to the coach, Mr. Carey, without whom the fine cast, the aid of the faculty advisors, the cooperation of the whole school, would have turned out "just another play" instead of the "super-elegant" "Inside the Lines."

SENIOR PROM

The Senior Prom

Bright, stiff dresses, soft, fluffy pastel dresses; fresh roses, wilted gardenias; prim tuxedos, top hat and tails; novice dancers, experienced dancers; blue and white streamers; vari-colored spots sparkling, radiating, gleaming on the ceiling—all these impressions flit across our minds to remind us of the best Senior Prom ever held in the Armory. It was outstanding not only in the happiness and joy of the gathering but also in the cooperation and willingness which must have gone on behind the scenes. The dance programs with their diaries were unique as any committee could devise. Even a reign of the grippe instead of the cold winter's night of last year could not keep the crowd away.

After treading from the car, meeting sadly Mr. Irish's request at the door, removing our wraps, we cautiously picked our way to the floor. There we were royally escorted by the hand-picked ushers to the receiving line, evidently cheerful though a bit wearied by its constant ups and downs. The line included Headmaster Ralph L. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin V. Weldon, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Harrison, Miss M. Gertrude Roughsedge, Mr. Raymond G. Flynn, and Mr. Richard J. Phelan. Then the social pitfalls were over, that is if you had danced with your escort before, for Buddy Trask led his orchestra to rhythmic heights.

Yes, the evening passed gaily, so much so that not even the rain could dampen our ardor, for of course it was the best prom in years.

Class Gift

Realizing that posters and notices are the pulse of the school, the Class of 1937 presented two glass enclosed bulletin boards to be placed in the school corridors.

Believing, also, that students could reach their places in the assembly hall in quicker time if welcomed by strains of music, we presented to the school a phonograph attachment for the public address system now installed in the hall.

These gifts were chosen by a committee composed of Prescott Farris, chairman, Edward Hughes, Ruth Branson, and Priscilla Barnard.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL FACULTY

Vocational School

It is the aim of the Vocational School to fit boys for useful employment through the development of the occupational skill required for the performance of satisfactory work under actual employment conditions in the following trades: automobile, cabinet making, electricity, machine shop, painting and decorating, printing, and sheet metal.

One half of the time is devoted to actual shop work and the other half to related and academic work. The laboratory method of instruction which is used in the related classes is very closely correlated with the shop work. This close tie-up assures a thorough training in shop and technical information.

The school attempts to prepare the boy morally, intellectually, and physically for the vocation for which he seems to be best fitted by nature, ability, and opportunity; at the completion of his course the school places the student in the industry trained for, keeps in touch with his progress, and encourages his promotion.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL COUNCIL

Ivy Oration

A small slip of ivy, duly planted every year by each graduating class, symbolizes the trials, struggles, and joys of high school days. This year, however, let us think of the ivy in a twofold way. Let us think of it not only as symbolical of our devotion and appreciation to this school, but symbolical also of our hopes for the succeeding classes in the Medford High School.

Our own years in this school have been full of keen friendship and close companionship, though our class is the largest ever to be graduated. These three years have been years filled with hopes and ambitions, spent in striving for that which is worthy of American manhood and womanhood. Like the ivy, we have been continually reaching up. Look at the ivies planted by our predecessors! Notice how they twist and encircle one another. That is the way our lives have been intermingled with those of our schoolmates. Gazing upward, we can see that sometimes the climb of the ivy has been a difficult one, but it has clambered over the hard, unresisting walls to reach the top. So it has been with us! Today the planting of this little vine has a definite ring of finality for us as seniors. This ivy is a living emblem of our lives in Medford High School. Some of us undoubtedly feel, (and it is only natural) that with the vine must go all our efforts and delightful experiences of the last three years. On the contrary, the clarion ring of the golden spade is a call to us to move onward with renewed vigor. Like the ivy, we must grow and push on with a firmer and higher resolve to accomplish our ambitions. Let us go forward with a feeling of appreciation and satisfaction that our foundation here has been so firmly built.

Undergraduates of Medford High School, for you, the growth of the ivy is parallel to the beginning of your struggles and good times. Because you are just starting your foundation, how we envy you! You, like this little ivy, start from the ground, encountering obstacles to overcome, but ever climbing upward. Our hope for you is that, while within the sacred portals of our beloved High School, you will take this ivy as an example of genuine success, remembering its excellent lesson of perseverance, and regarding it as a symbol of future success and happiness. We hope that you will learn early to heed the advice of your helpers. Since the proverb, "As ye sow, so shall ye reap," is ever true, and as our President today plants this small, tenacious ivy, gradually to become a gorgeous, rambling vine, so shall we graduates and undergraduates alike reap the fortunes of our school training.

Classmates, our happy sheltered life at Medford High School is about to end. The symbolic ivy has been planted as a token of our everlasting love and devotion to Medford High School. Let us part from one another today with this toast both to the undergraduates of this school and to our own Class of 1937.

"A health to you,
And wealth to you,
And the best that life can give to you.
May Fortune still be kind to you,
And Happiness be true to you,
And Life be long and good to you,
Is the toast of all of your friends to you!"

GERALDINE MARSHALL, '37.

THE FRENCH TROUPE

The French Troupe

Théâtre Des Intrépides Medford High School

“Chacun a deux pays, le sien et La France.” “Each one has two countries, his own and France.” So runs a very old saying.

It is with this thought in mind that Le Theatre Des Intrepides, the dramatic troupe representing the French Department, endeavors to bring before the school each year the true purpose of foreign language study: personal enrichment through better understanding of a different civilization.

The Troupe, unique among high schools, and formerly a senior activity, has extended its membership this year to juniors and sophomores of outstanding merit. Organized as a traveling company, the cast enjoys frequent trips to schools, to colleges, and to conventions of more mature groups interested in French.

The ultimate aim is to provide a substantial scholarship fund for some worthy member of the Troupe who plans to choose French as a major subject in college.

The Medford gala performance is held during the first week of May each year.

SCENES OF THE FRENCH TROUPE

Class History

"They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in,
For every day I stand outside your door
And bid you wake, and rise to fight and win.

Weep not for precious chances passed away!
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I burn the records of the day—
At sunrise every soul is born again."

Thus,—we, the class of 1937, with our souls newly-born and with the records of previous years forgotten, entered Medford High School in answer to the knock of opportunity. Our hearts were light and happy; our eyes sparkled with the joy of independence. A new school,—a new life,—another chance.

Because we were a dignified and business-like class, it did not take us long to settle down to the task of choosing those persons among us best suited for the important duty of leading our class. To John Dyer was given the high honor of the presidency; Josephine Short was elected vice-president; Elizabeth McManus, secretary; and William Daley, treasurer. To these officers we, as the graduating class of 1937, extend our sincere thanks. They proved during the year that we had chosen well.

As sophomores we gained the reputation of being one of the most spirited and enthusiastic groups ever to inhabit these traditional classrooms.

We could not understand the amused stares of our upper classmen, as we shouted, stamped, and clapped at our football rallies. We were young! We were happy! We were enjoying a grand adventure.

As we wandered through the building, we beheld the attractive library which, in its present form, not having reached its second birthday, was to us a priceless possession. Yet, we did not have the feeling for it which we have today. Then, it was a marvelous place to spend a study period in meeting our friends and discussing in low tones the daily scandal. Now as seniors, we, looking back, appreciate it so much better as a place of quiet for study.

Our Class Hop held on May 3, at Pitman Academy was the third time such an activity had been enjoyed by a sophomore class. With Edward Berberian, Francis Crowley, Arthur DeMontigny, Walter Johansson, Gerry Marshall, Frank Pote, Dorothy Reeder, and Louise Shattuck, along with our efficient officers comprising our Hop Committee, it was no wonder that another success was added to our accomplishments.

The fact that we were insignificant sophomores and that we were not given the pleasure of so many assemblies as were the seniors was the least of our worries. We had not yet reached the "get-out-of-a-period" stage, though we did appreciate every opportunity to become better acquainted with our able headmaster, Mr. Ralph L. Kendall.

When the classes from the three Junior High Schools assembled and at length became an organized body, we discovered that we had many gifted artists in our midst. Mary Elizabeth Smith, who early distinguished herself as a poet and scholar, was perhaps the most outstanding. Billie Parks, whom we soon learned to be one of our sweetest possessions, and charming Rosalie Bellitti were our talented aspirants to the field of drama. We must not forget our inimitable Harold Peabody who became so noted for his histrionic ability. The year 1935 also brought Warren Haley and Donald Shedd to add to the prestige of our membership.

In the literary realm, Frank Pote was our first classmate to distinguish himself by becoming an advertising manager of the "Review," our time-honored school magazine.

How often did Coach Brooks cast a look of dismay on the line of would-be athletes who represented our sophomore class! Little did he realize that he was gazing at some of the best school boy material in the state. Yet, three short years have developed those candidates with their uncertain voices and shaky knees into championship material. To Charley Stanley, ace hockey player, and Eddie Dugger, trackster, we are grateful for having saved us from the fate of being unrepresented on the varsity teams. Pidgie Hughes, Jimmie Dwyer, Dom Augliera, Maurie Carroll, Red Southwick, and Coffee Twcmey were among our fellow students who later became conspicuous for their athletic prowess.

To the already wide range of organizations open to sophomore students was added the Stamp Club founded for those pupils interested in the collection and history of stamps. We are pleased to relate that we have four charter members among us; namely, Hazel Dobbs, Malcolm Ferguson, Christopher Hursh, and Harold Boyd.

The Cum Laude Club composed of students whose names make up the honor roll, was for the first time that year established for the purpose of encouraging scholarship and according the honor due to those pupils who attained membership in it. Medford High School is proud of its Cum Laude Club, and we of the graduating class feel a sense of pleasure that such an organization came into existence during our first year in the school.

Yes, our sophomore year was a struggle but one from which we came with "flying colors." Since we had been given the chance to make something of ourselves, we determined to do it, knowing we might never again have the opportunity.

Our sophomore year came to a close. We left school happy not only because two months of vacation lay ahead of us but because we were older and more confident; we were now one step nearer to our goal.

Perhaps James Kenyon best described our feelings when he said,

"With rustling wings, she swept from Heaven and stood
Beside me where I loitered in the way.
Her brow was calm and in her outstretched hand
She bore a gift—a virgin bud that blushed
Disparting its green sheath . . . She spake no word,
But paused a little space and looked at me
With silent scorn; then plumed her shining wings
In sudden flight, nor ever came again."

Older, wiser, a bit more serious we returned in September to begin a new school year. By this time thoroughly accustomed to the intricacies of Medford High, one of the largest classes ever to become juniors applied itself to the regular routine of school life. In the fall elections, Frank Rohbacker was chosen president; Audrey Costello, vice president; Gertrude Egan and Donald Shedd, secretary and treasurer respectively. Thus, under the guidance of these officers, we began a year of accomplishment in which the members of the class excelled in drama, music, athletics, and, last but not least, scholarly achievement.

In our Medford High School, athletics play an important part in the life of the student—important in the sense that they train one in character-building, sport-manship, and fair play. We try to keep in mind, however, that in our school scholarly achievement and endeavor play a far more important part. Our football team that year enjoyed a successful season checked only by its nemesis—Waltham. In the other games our team tied New Bedford, Lynn Classical, and Malden. All the others we conquered in regular Medford fashion. Among the members of this team were our classmen, James Dwyer, Eddie McCarthy, Leo McCabe, Eddie Alves, and Pidgie Hughes. Other teams followed in their wake, establishing a reputation for true sportsmanship. The basketball team, due to our classmates, had a reasonably successful season. The hockey team elected as its captain, Charles Stanley, who became all scholastic the next year. Great honor is due Edward Dugger who brought the state championship in the hurdles to Medford.

Scholastically several students were outstanding. Billie Parks and Harry Dustin maintained the high standard of the class by winning the gold medal as a prize in the Eighth Annual Prize Speaking Contest.

During our junior year, under the tutelage of Mr. Carey, successful dramas were presented among which were "The Valiant," "The Traitor," and "Speaking to Father." Outstanding among our classmates in this group were Harold Peabody, Donald Shedd, and Warren Haley.

Within our faculty had been working quietly a man who was to bring us fame—a man who was to place Medford High foremost among the musical groups of New England. Of course we refer to one whom we regard now as our very own, Mr. Ralph I. Schoonmaker. To him we give credit for the direction of a musical festival in which our class excelled in choral work. At this festival we were honored by the presence of the late Walter Smith, noted cornetist, and Edwin Franko Goldman, nationally known band director. Later, he coached the band which won second place in the State Contest and first place in Class B in the New England Championships.

And now, realizing that all good things must have an end, we, the junior class of 1937, feeling improved in mind and spirit, turned from our junior activities, eager in the expectation of another year.

Some sophomore has said, "Silence is golden—especially in the presence of a senior." No truer words have ever been spoken as we, since becoming illustrious seniors, have realized. During our first two years we stumbled time and again, committing such unpardonable errors as saying to a teacher the wrong thing at the wrong time, pushing the swinging door into an upper classman's face, and chewing gum audibly. The pinnacle was reached at last, however, and we became, so to speak, the noblest Romans of them all.

Our first and foremost objective was the election of class officers who would act like drum majors and lead the class of 1937 to the climax of three overflowing years. When the roar of battle had died away, the survivors were Edward Hughes, president; Dorothy Reeder, vice president; Nancy Child, secretary; and Charles Stanley, treasurer. These four eminent personages chose an advisory council of twenty who cooperated to make the senior activities run smoothly.

In the field of sports our representatives carried on the traditions of Medford High School. The football team was riding under a "jinx" after Captain Bennett's injury in the very first game, and other subsequent casualties. Nevertheless Pidge Hughes, Jimmy Dwyer, and the rest of the team gritted their teeth against the odds, and we are proud of them. The hockey team under the brilliant leadership of Charlie Stanley won second place in the Greater Boston League besides having five players selected for the All Star Team. Coffee Twomey captained the indoor track team which won second place in the State Meet, while Ed Dugger, the State 220 yard champion, headed the outdoor track. The basketball team led by Ted Cervone was our pride and joy, for the Medford "hoopsters," as a result of winning more than two-thirds of the games played, participated in the Tech Tournament. The Greater Boston League championship was carried off by the soccer team captained by Bud Fichera. The baseball organization was unusually good, with Captain Dom Augliera and his star players. But not all the credit should go to the boys. Through the efforts of Doris Miller and Rita Buckley in field hockey, Yolanda Zani and Marion Malatesta in basketball, and Jane Morgan in tennis, teams have been organized which have held their own in the face of opposition. After looking over the records of our athletes, we find that the motto of Medford teams is "Never say die!"

The big social event of the year was the Senior Prom. For many weeks the committee had slaved and torn their hair in anxiety, but they were well repaid for their efforts. The dance was more than well attended by the seniors whose dress and conduct inspired respect—nay, awe—from the lower classmen. The large revolving crystal ball, which the enterprising decorating committee had secured, was ample proof of the extraordinary ingenuity of the class of 1937.

When, after many weary hours of rehearsing, the senior play turned out to be such a huge success, it is no wonder that Mr. Carey went about with a "Hail-fellow-well-met" look on his face. "Inside the Lines" by Earl Derr Biggers was the first Medford High School production to be given in a theatre. One more laurel to add to our already bristling crown. Well-poised Billie Parks did a fine job, as did Donald Shedd, Warren Haley, Harold Peabody, and the rest of the star-studded cast. The audience saw only the smooth performance. Little did they know of the way Mr. Ricker flew around like a chicken with its head off, collecting properties, and the way Miss Baker had to be in two dozen places at once to lend that "feminine touch." To ushers, stagehands, faculty aids, director, and cast, we throw orchids.

Speaking of dramatics, we were delighted with the performance of our representatives in "Le Théâtre des Intrepides." To Miss Loftus we express our appreciation for the lovely portrayal by her Modern Language Department.

Whenever an assembly was called during the year, the benumbed brains of the seniors showed a spark of light. There was a fashion show for the girls, which gave them many ideas for their spring wardrobes. On another occasion we all laughed at the antics of a professional make-up man who cleverly transformed his subjects: one, for instance, to resemble a clown; another, Cyrano de Bergerac. Recently several members of the alumni who are now in college presented inspiring talks which gave us much to think about. They reminded us that values are to be gained not only from books, but from contacts with our fellow-men as well.

Last month it was our privilege to observe the centenary of Horace Mann as Secretary of Education in Massachusetts. There was conducted a school-wide contest, in which prizes were offered for the best productions in the fields of literature and art.

In the art division awards were made as follows: the second grand prize to Louise Shattuck; the first prize in the senior contest to James M. Rogers; the second, to Robert C. Butman; honorable mention to Harold Peabody and to Ethel Waterman. In the literary division the winner of the first grand prize was Henry Tweddle, Jr.; the winner of the second, Marjorie F. Hyde. In the senior class contest the first prize was awarded to Dorothy Walkley; the second to Guy Rizzo. Mary Elizabeth Smith received honorable mention. In view of the keen competition involved, great credit is due these winners.

The "Reviews" published this year were of rare content. We gazed with unrestrained pleasure at the photographs taken by Bob Smith and Bob Messenger. We laughed with uncontrollable mirth when we read the witty articles of Louise Shattuck and looked over the cartoons of Harold Peabody. We sighed and wished we were aesthetically inclined when we fell under the spell of poems by Dorothy Walkley, Anna Kisluk, and Mary Elizabeth Smith. The efforts of our staff artists and writers, have not been in vain, for we shall treasure our "Reviews" for many years to come.

Our record, of course, would not be complete did we fail to give due recognition to our illustrious scholars. To Mary Elizabeth Smith, valedictorian, and to Charles H. Corliss, essayist, we extend our heartiest congratulations.

Now after three glorious years of work and play, we draw to the close of another chapter in our book of life. There are no words fine enough to tell of our sincere appreciation of all that Mr. Kendall and the teachers have done to aid us in our search for knowledge and strength of character. Nor would the social side of our senior year have been such an overwhelming success, had it not been for the guidance of Miss Baker and Mr. Harrison. Life is too short to live in the past, however precious the memories may be. We go on, therefore, with heroic, modern spirit to the new heights awaiting all that seek them.

We, the editors of this Yearbook, extend our thanks to our Faculty Adviser, Miss Lyons, for her patient and untiring effort to help make "The Blue and White" of 1937 a fitting record of the achievements of our Senior Class.

MARSHALS AND USHERS

Class Day

Ecru and blue were the colors chosen by the Junior Marshals for their dresses, and purple iris was the flower decided on for their delicate wands. A very pretty picture they made, too, as they tripped into the Assembly Hall to usher in those proud Seniors whose fond parents followed them with eager eyes. Afterward they arranged themselves, alternating blue and ecru, on the front steps of the High School while the Ivy Oration and the Class Will were delivered. A second time, at the Senior Reception, the Marshals shone, escorting colorful couples through the smiling but weary receiving line. As a final service to the Class of 1936, they were present at the graduation exercises in the Cousens Gymnasium.

STONEWALLS

Stonewalls that rise and dip o'er hill and dale
Were never made by nature, but by hands that toiled
Day in, day out, with never time for rest—
Untiring hands.

They built with heedful thought for future years
When men would be too busy for such meager work—
Too busy building greater things than walls—
Much greater things.

Yet walls have weathered trying tests of time;
Mute, humble sentinels of rural scenes they stand,
Mocking the pettiness of passing men—
Themselves unmoved.

The unassuming, grey stonewalls stand by
As the proud parade of humans marches into view,
Departing for man's great adventures—life—
Nought stops its course.

With patience, walls of character are built
That will resist the flitting aims of mortal men;
Each stone, a victory, is placed with care—
To stand through time.

RIVERS

One kind of river is a lazy, silver river,
Vaulted low with heaven hiding trees;
Wandering unending, torn with threads of mauve,
Painted over with shadows from the clouds.

Another kind of river is a deep, moving river,
Hastening to leap into the sea;
Sparkling in the sunlight, shimmering by moonlight,
Yet running, roaring, rushing, endlessly.

Another kind of river is a limpid, lipping river,
That glistens over pebbles like a flame;
Forming tiny whirlpools, rustling over sand,
Laughing, trilling, singing all the day.

The wildest kind of river is a crashing, snarling river,
Born on a mountain's purple peak;
Tumbling over lofty crags, seething white with foam,
Living near to heav'n's enduring heights.

But the greatest kind of river is a living, breathing river,
That flows through the thirsty sands of time;
Sometimes, still and placid, sometimes, deep and moving;
Yet seeking, ever seeking, for the sea.

Our human lives flow onward as the surging rivers do,
Changing in their purposes and moods;
But the lives that really matter, that are fierce and free and strong,
Never change their steady searching for the sea.

SENIOR ADVISORY COUNCIL

Advisory Council

The Senior Advisory Council consists of students, who are chosen by the four class officers. The social activities of the class are acted upon by this group. The Senior Promenade and the Senior Reception are under its direct guidance. In order to make this a cooperative plan, the Council is divided into seven sub-committees:

| Secretary .....      | CHARLES STANLEY             |
| Adviser .....        | MISS M. GERTRUDE ROUGHSEDGE |

The Student Cabinet is an organization made up of the Presidents of all the recognized school clubs and the Senior Class Officers.

The following Clubs are represented:

|                           |                    |
|---------------------------|--------------------|
| Boys' Club                | House of Delegates |

| German Club               | Varsity "M"        |
| Girls' Club               | Traffic Squad      |

The business of the meetings is received from the House of Delegates. If the motion is passed by the Cabinet, it is then sent to Mr. Kendall for his approval.

Among the activities of this section of the Student Council was a cooperative effort in the sale of Senior Class Play tickets. An assembly for boys was held preceding the Senior Prom which the boys found very helpful in making the event successful socially. The prizes for the Horace Mann Contest were secured through the efforts of the Cabinet Members. The Business Girls' Club was formed by way of the Cabinet with most promising results.

Delegates were sent from the Cabinet and the House of Delegates to the meeting of the Eastern Division of the Massachusetts Student Councils. Miss Marion Knipp of the Medford High School has been elected Secretary of this organization for the year 1938.

Delegates were also sent to the State Meeting of Student Councils.

As a part of Student Council, the Cabinet represents all of the student body of the Medford High School,

ADVISERS

MISS ELIZABETH T. FLANAGAN

MR. EDWIN F. PIDGEON

MISS PAULINE WEBBER

About three years ago the Student Council of Medford High School was organized to permit the pupils of the school to have a voice in its governing.

The House of Delegates, which is the lower body of the Council, has increased its work each year until now it is one of the most active organizations in the school. Many bills have been passed, many topics discussed, and many projects started, all of which are beneficial to the school. Although there are over sixty members in the House, the Meetings are conducted with utmost order and decorum by either the very able president or vice-president.

One of the duties assigned to the House at the beginning of this school year was that of planning assembly programs for the different classes. To fulfil this task the president appointed a committee which has done splendid work in selecting speakers and performers. Another undertaking was that of planning a better cheering section for the coming football season. An appointed committee made out certain standards to which a student must qualify in order to become a cheer leader. Also, with the aid of the mechanical drawing department, a project has been begun to give the high school a student cheering section similar to that of Annapolis.

In addition to carrying out such plans as these, the members of the House always willingly aid other organizations of the school by selling tickets and giving "pep" talks in their respective homerooms for every school affair, such as band concerts, the Senior Class Play, and especially sports.

At the annual Eastern Division of Student Councils' Meeting held at the Arlington High School on May 8, 1937, our own secretary of the House of Delegates, Marion Knipp, was elected secretary of that interscholastic body for 1937-38.

The constitution states, "Each member must cooperate to his utmost with the government which he has chosen." It may well be said that this is dutifully carried out.

BOYS' CLUB

| President .....      | FRANK R. POTE '37                      |
| Vice-President ..... | PAUL CAHILL '37                        |
| Secretary .....      | J. ROLAND CRAWFORD '37                 |
| Treasurer .....      | LAWRENCE E. PETERSON '37               |
| Advisers .....       | RICHARD J. PHELAN, JOHN A. RICKER, JR. |

The M. H. S. Boys' Club, a cosmopolitan group, to which any boy of good character in the school may aspire, was organized several years ago under the capable advisership of Richard J. Phelan of the faculty. It is the only all-around boys' organization, in which the boys may enjoy the comradeship of each other. In that membership is elective, it is an honor to belong. The purpose of the club is to join the fellows, prominent in school activities, into a "closer bond of friendship." The club has enjoyed a very successful and active year in many ways.

In the varied program, carefully planned, where both quality and the entertainment have been stressed, there were many outstanding speakers. Mr. Raymond I. Flynn of the faculty, first speaker of the year, spoke on his recent travels through England, Scotland, Ireland. The Boys' Club devoted its next three meetings to a series of lectures open to the boys of the school which were well-attended and enthusiastically received. Professor Frank W. Pote, Department of Physics at Tufts College, guest speaker at the first lecture, spoke on the "Atomic Theory and Related Subjects." The second speaker, City Treasurer John J. Ward, gave his well-known talk on the Olympics, illustrated with pictures and slides taken at Germany this past summer. The last speaker in the series, a native of Canton, China, Mr. Ben Sam Seetoo, junior student at Tufts College, gave a most enlightening talk on China and her relations with other great world powers. Another unusual speaker was Mr. Joseph M. Lippincott, a third year student in the School of Religion at Tufts College who chose as his subject "A New Pattern for Patriotism and The American Friends' Society."

The social side of the club has not been neglected. The boys joined with the Girls' Club for a most successful and enjoyable meeting with Mr. Charles Rogers of the faculty, guest speaker, his subject being "Palestine, Past, Present, and Future." Throughout the year, refreshments have been served after each meeting under a very capable committee. On March 5, the Boys' Club, represented by Frank R. Pote and Lawrence E. Peterson and the Girls' Club by Lee DeMuzio and Phyllis Pidgeon, sponsored an informal afternoon dance in the High School Gym which proved to be such an innovation that many requests were received for repetition. It was acclaimed a social success by all the people attending.

An assembly under the direction of the Boys' Club, with representatives from Tufts, Harvard, Northeastern, Norwich, Bates, and Amherst Colleges, proved quite popular with the fellows of the school. The purpose of the assembly was to provide inspiration for the undergraduate boys and to acquaint them with future possibilities for education.

SKI CLUB

M.H.S.

It also must be conceded that the club became more definitely identified by its new pin adopted this year. The expense of these pins was partially defrayed from the proceeds of several successful Food Sales and a Rummage Sale. The club also participated in Community Service to the extent of donating a Christmas Basket to a needy family. It also plans to join the Girls' Club in the annual outing at Nahant, which will close the activities of a most pleasant year.

Ski Club

The Ski Club, now in its second year, is an organization for boys and girls interested in learning to ski and to improve their skill in this sport. Mr. Reid, of the Vocational School, is the adviser and instructor of this group of skiing enthusiasts.

The unusual winter conditions which spoiled local skiing did not discourage the members. An Activity Committee appointed by the President, Lawrence Peterson, had the responsibility of planning some indoor activities for the club. These consisted of a series of moving picture films pertaining to skiing, the most interesting of which was the one of the recent Olympics. Mr. John Ward, City Treasurer, who took these pictures himself, gave a very entertaining lecture.

The club is hoping for more favorable weather during the coming season, in which to carry on more extensive activities.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Dramatic Club

The class of 1937 has just reason to be genuinely proud of the efforts of its Dramatic Club displayed during the past three years. Much talent has been discovered among its various members, and under the direction of Mr. Carey and Mr. Ricker, this talent has been encouraged and developed to its fullest extent.

In our junior year the club presented two one-act plays: "The Traitor" and "Speaking to Father." "The Traitor," which is characterized by its compelling sense of climax, had as its cast Donald Shedd, Harold Peabody, Lincoln Ricker, Christopher Hursh, Joseph Mazmanian, Americo Cerullo, Warren Griffin, Howard Alden, and John Harvey.

The cast of "Speaking to Father" included Dorothy Walkley, Alma Winston, Harold Peabody, Donald Shedd, and Frank Pote. Although we, as juniors, did not have the pleasure of watching this comedy, we heard that the audience was most appreciative of the humor so aptly developed by each character during the course of the play.

Another play, produced during our junior year, was "The Valiant," in which "Billie" Parks, Warren Haley, and Marie Preble were the only members of the class of 1937 to participate. This stirring drama received acclaim from even the most severe critics.

Good evidence that the Christmas play was a success was the fact that the Senior Class paid it strict attention! That is homage for you, actors, for it is a hard job to accomplish that mission! But the play, "The Silence of God" did it with the help of competent actors and the able coaching of Mr. Carey. Indeed, we think that this was one of the most moving Christmas plays that could have been selected for an assembly.

The play had for its theme—peace, appropriate at this time. It was brisk enough to hold the attention but did not repeat the sentiments that are worn threadbare. We are again face to face with the versatile Harold Peabody, who leads the cast in the role of the old innkeeper, Josef; as the Baron Otto Von Kassel, we meet perhaps for the first time, Edward O'Connor who shows his worth to advantage; also before our eyes for the first time Fred Whittemore, evidently following his brother's footsteps, gave a performance of note. Although General Handleman, Count Feldman, and General Schliemann, taken respectively by Robert Haydon, Christopher Hursh, and James Sullivan, did not have very large parts in respect to the others, they certainly were greeted by the girls of the audience, lured as always by the sight of a uniform. We might add that they lived up to their uniforms. The mob should be mentioned—an important feature in any cast; also the A Cappella Choir who supplied a pleasing background of harmony. Yes, it is a fact, we, Seniors, were well satisfied by our last Christmas in the High School.

We have learned much these past three years, as members of the Dramatic Club. Through our participation in the various plays, we have gained poise, self-assurance, and confidence; and through our interpretation of these plays, we have gained a deeper understanding of life and of our fellow-man.

M. H. S. "REVIEW" STAFF

M. H. S. "Review"

Carrying out its policy of new and different ideas the February "Review" was spectacular in every way, for this issue was filled with many choice bits. Through the patience and skill of Bob Messenger and Bob Smith, the magazine also contained several sets of candid camera shots of life about the school; the cover, with a most unique and difficult design, was acclaimed a glorious success—a winter scene with driving snow sweeping across a dark and barren background devoid of all objects except three spruce trees etched in white. The icy word "Review" formed down the page, typical of the weather outside. Yet as one opened the cover, the inner pages revealed the warmth, the gaiety, and the interests of the student's pen in the variety of short stories, lyrics, and articles filling the spaces. The remarkable work of our young poets can not be surpassed, nor can the cartoons of Harold Peabody and the extraordinary pictures and sketches of Louise Shattuck. It is to Mr. Edward J. Finnegan however, and the other advisers that we should give the credit. Their guidance, their thoughtful suggestions, and patience have made it possible to reach the high rung on the ladder of achievement.

The Medford High School Stamp Club was founded in the year 1934 by a group of students headed by George Serson. The club was formed for a threefold purpose: to organize the philatelists of the Medford High School; to assist students in furthering their knowledge of philately; to provide enjoyment for its members.

For the benefit of future members, the first M. H. S. Stamp Club established a constitution providing for payment of dues, membership, and arrangement of meetings and election of officers.

The regular meetings, which are held on the first Wednesday and the third Thursday of each month, are made enjoyable by stamp auctions, moving pictures, stamp trading, contests, and guest speakers. Although the club is immature, various important speakers have been presented: Mr. Houghton Sangrinetti of the Boston Transcript; Mr. Joseph Bell of Cambridge; Mr. Stearns, State Teachers College at Bridgewater; Mr. Lasky of Medford; Mr. Ralph Needham; and Mr. Arthur Andrews of Arlington, and others.

To help celebrate the M. H. S. Centennial in 1935, the club with the permission of the general committee sponsored a cachet commemorating the event, realizing a sum of money, part of which was contributed to the general expenses of the celebration.

In the School Library, each year the club presents an exhibition which arouses favorable comments from students as well as teachers. Much interest is shown also in the continuous display of stamps in the case outside of Room 314. Once a month the club issues a bulletin containing original articles, as well as excerpts from philatelic magazines. Leading philatelic magazines are subscribed to by the club each year.

The limited membership of twenty-five has been reached each year.

The German Club of Medford High School, whose purpose it is to encourage modern language study and to introduce to the student the literature and music of Germany, enjoyed the fourth year of its existence under the direction of Miss Esther D. Starr.

In the field of literature, the students have made studies of folk stories, particularly those centered about the Rhine. They have discussed the simpler poetry of Goethe, Heine, and Schiller. Those people with special interest in music have given programs on folk music, Wagnerian operas, and the compositions of Beethoven. Another group planned a summer in Germany, with imaginary trips to Cologne, Weimar, Dresden, Heidelberg, and Oberammergau.

Our club was represented at the recent showing of "Emil und die Detektive," and at other local performances.

There has been a marked improvement in the development of interest in language study. "Immer weiter" reads our slogan, and we are looking forward to greater accomplishments.

"Hab' Sonne im Herzen,
Ob's sturmt oder schneit,
Ob der Himmel voll Wolken,

During the 1936-37 debating season, several teams representing the Debating Clubs of the school participated in one interscholastic and several inter-mural contests. At the beginning of the season, the Boys' Team met and defeated a team from the Medford High School Girls' Debating Club in a radio debate on the question of Public Utilities. In a second radio debate, the sophomore boys were defeated on the Public Utilities question by the Chelsea High School Team by the score of 2 to 1 in a very close contest.

As it is the custom for the debating societies to present one assembly each season, the Boys' Club met the Girls' Club in a debate before the juniors of the school, on the question, Resolved: That It Is Better To Be A Little Frog In A Big Pond Than To Be A Big Frog In A Little Pond. The decision was awarded to the Boys' Club. Two weeks later this same debate was broadcast as a part of the W. C. O. P. Inter-scholastic Debate Radio Series. The next debate between the Boys' and Girls' Clubs was given before the members of the Mystic Congregational Men's Club, when a judgment rendered by the members of the Club resulted in a tie. The season closed with a debate between the undergraduate members of both clubs in a radio broadcast on the question of Civil Service Reform.

PROTECTIVE DEPARTMENT

Protective Department

"A safe, clean, orderly school!" A fitting motto, indeed, and perhaps a large order for a student group to handle; nevertheless, our school Protective Department has taken on this job.

Our organization is composed of a chief, captains (Seniors), lieutenants (Juniors), and aides (any class, mostly Sophomores). The captains and lieutenants are checkers, and each period obtain the signature, time, and reports of the aides on duty in the corridors.

Our duties include watching coatrooms, directing strangers, inducing orderly passing, and helping prevent noise and wandering during class periods. In case of fire or fire drill, we are in a position to see that exits are open, to urge speed without confusion, and to help in every way prevent injury during any emergency.

Our new arm bands, with stars, serve to add to the appearance of the boys, as well as to distinguish real members from wanderers, shirkers, and other habitual "get-out-of-classers." Our office, where check sheets are filed, and reports made, is, by the kindness of Mr. Phelan, established in the coatroom of 102. Period III daily the Adjutant, Charles Counter, is on duty to check and file reports or receive complaints.

| Adviser .....             | HERBERT L. COLLINS |

The object of the Varsity "M" Club is to promote good spirit; to help form sportsmanship; to acquire a high standing in studies; to be loyal to the school; and to increase interest in athletics.

The principal event of the year was the annual banquet and general get-together held in December. At this affair, sweaters were given to last year's hockey, basketball, and baseball Senior lettermen; and this year's Senior football lettermen. The "Mayor Irwin trophy to the Most Valuable Player on the Football Squad" was awarded to Edward Hughes; this time, the presentation being made by His Honor, the Mayor. On Feb. 12 the baseball moving picture "Heads Up" with Cy Perkins, coach of the Detroit Tigers, as commentator, was presented by the Medford Park Department with the assistance of the members of the "M" club. In March a donkey basketball game with each player mounted on a mule, was sponsored, before a capacity crowd, by the varsity basketball squad and the faculty. The varsity, represented by Cervone, Augliera, Dwyer, Valas, DeNinno, Squires, Marko, Purbeck, McCabe and Fennelly triumphed over the faculty, comprising Collins, Brooks, Phelan, O'Connor, Noble, Lang, Terrill, Ricker, Flynn and Pidgeon, after a close game. The dance, with music supplied by a local orchestra and held in the gymnasium was attended by a large crowd.

The pin selected by the club was a plain block "M," a replica of the official varsity "M."

Italian Club

President ..... FRANK DI MARTINO
 Secretary ..... GENEVIEVE CORTINA
 Treasurer ..... IDA CASTRABERTI
 Adviser ..... MISS MARIANNA LA CASCIA

The Italian Club of the Medford High School has enjoyed its second year under the direction of Miss Marianna LaCascia, teacher of Italian. The Club, organized with the introduction of Italian in September 1935, has enlarged the scope of its activities this year, and is planning an extensive program in the future.

During the season 1935-1936 the Club presented a play which was very successful.

In December of this year, 1936, the Club members observed the feast of Christmas. Gifts were exchanged, old Italian carols were sung, and a social hour was enjoyed with Miss Marie Solari as mistress of ceremonies.

At the March meeting the Club made provision for a donation to the Horace Mann Centennial.

The Italian Club will be represented in the 1937 French Troupe by a vocal and instrumental chorus, also by a group of young ladies who will dance the tarantella.

Accompanied by Miss LaCascia several members will visit the leading colleges where Italian is emphasized.

A Word of Appreciation

To Miss Daggett and her girls, who have been of such inestimable assistance in compiling the personal history of every member of the Senior Class, for use in "The Blue and White," the editors wish to express their sincere thanks.

The Nautical Club has endeavored to teach its members seamanship and navigation. The aim of the club has been to give a knowledge of the opportunities for training in the United States Naval and Coast Guard Academies, in the Massachusetts Nautical School, and in other institutions for nautical training.

To create enthusiasm, competent and experienced seamen were invited to speak. These speakers, Mr. E. G. Hamilton, Quartermaster in the United States Coast Guard, and Mr. Scott, a cadet of the Massachusetts Nautical Training Ship, gave interesting lectures.

The Club has proved its worth and has a bright future for 1938.

ADVISERS

MR. HERBERT L. COLLINS

MISS MYRA I. LUCE

The purpose of the G. A. A. is to promote friendships and to further athletics for girls in Medford High School.

The G. A. A. held a successful dance in the High School Gymnasium on Friday, December 4, 1936. The annual alumnae basketball game and party took place in November. Mr. Lang and Mr. Bohn demonstrated lacrosse at one of the winter meetings, and a representative from Sargent College lectured on "Physical Education as a Profession."

Getting into the proper Christmas spirit, the girls made up a very generous basket which was given to a family and also contributed to the fund for eyeglasses for pupils.

The club constitution has been re-organized, and membership in the future will depend on the girls' participation in athletics, in addition to interest in the G. A. A.

The annual outing of the Girls' Athletic Association was held in May.

Music Festival

A large audience waited breathlessly at the doors of the Cousens Gym to hear the Music Festival in 1936. It was new, different from anything Medford High had ever attempted before. Dr. Franko Goldman, who was invited by Mr. Schoonmaker, conducted the band in a manner which shall not be soon forgotten. This accounted somewhat for the large attendance at the Music Festival in 1937 at which Dr. Hollis Dann was the guest conductor. 1800 students took part in the Festival and the remarkable training and long hours of practice showed up greatly. Something new has been started in Medford High which has awakened the City of Medford to the possibilities of music. Let us hope for steady progress in the years to come.

The Medford High School Girls' Club has proved to be one of the most progressive clubs in the school. Under the willing and cooperative guidance of its advisers, Mrs. Mary Bagley and Miss Mildred Junkins, and the fine leadership of the president, Phyllis Pidgeon, the club has been able to accomplish much, both financially and socially.

The emblem of the club is a gold star of five points with a blue "M" in its center.

Travel talks, contributed by some of the faculty, have afforded many pleasant meetings. An instructive lecture on costumes and colors was particularly pleasing to the modern young lady.

Contributing to the pleasant memories of this year's activities were picnics, swimming parties, dances, and a Christmas party given for a group of small children in one of our grammar schools.

The club's first annual banquet was held on May 27, 1937, to which all the former members were invited. This was the final activity of a successful year.

The Cum Laude Club, under the guidance of Mr. Earle M. Woodward, is composed of the boys who attain the Honor Roll. Its purpose is to foster interest in scholastic standing and to promote friendship among the members. Meetings are held at specified intervals during the year, to which speakers representing various professions are invited. Among the speakers this year were Dr. Kadesch, Mr. T. M. Connell of the "Mercury", and Mr. Woodward. The club publishes "The Blue and White Handbook." Another activity of the club was the formation of a successful bowling team.

A pin consisting of a gold "torch of knowledge" on a blue and white shield has been selected by the club. A second annual "Medford in Provincetown Day", sponsored by the club, is planned for June.

Ode to III-A

Just to remember Division A
The class that talked all night and day.
We had some wisdom there they said
But why not let it show its head?
Our female element wasn't weak
But we were generosity at its peak.
At Christmas Mademoiselle and Miss Ladd
Benefitted well from our spirits glad.
A hat well feathered in pink and green
Since then it never has been seen.
An assignment book of rare size
Plus gifts to Bates and Irish wise.
When Mr. Irish aged a year
We honored him as though a peer.
So you see we weren't so bad
And now leaving we are sad.
For we must part from many friends
And in the world our way will wend.

M. H. S. BAND

Our Band

One of the organizations of which Medford High is most proud is the band, rating 99 percent class B, in the New England Competition at Portland, Maine, the highest rating ever won by any school band in the East. This was the first New England contest ever entered by Medford High. The band made a striking appearance at the football games as the Blue and White flashed down the field in rhythmic unison. It has been very active, having been called upon to play at various activities, the dedication of station W E E I, The Music Festival, The Music Educators Convention in Boston, and at many concert appearances in Medford.

Our Orchestra

The orchestra under the efficient leadership and direction of Ralph I. Schoonmaker has progressed more this year than in any other year in the history of the High School. The interest of the pupils in giving many of their afternoons for extra rehearsals showed that their efforts were worth while when the School Committee granted credit for instrumental study. The orchestra assisted at many of the school functions this year, such as the Senior Class Play, Prize Speaking contest, Evening School Graduation, and assemblies. The orchestra was called upon to play for many organizations in Medford.

STEPPING-STONES TO SERVICE

From earliest times service, in one form or another, has been recognized as part of the program of life. As the ideals of nations have changed, the nature of the service has altered; but, high or low, the people have responded through service to the demands of their superiors. Thralls have served their kings, vassals have served their lords, peasants have served the aristocracy.

Today the old idea of service by the people for their leaders has been changed to the motif of a co-operative service for the general benefit of mankind. This kind of spirit is well illustrated in a maxim of the great educator, Horace Mann, "Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity." Through the generous service of the first secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Education we owe the development of the American public school system. It must have been this same ideal that inspired Pasteur to spend his life and scientific knowledge in the service of humanity.

In our generation the rule of service has entered every field. Even industry has gone service-minded. We find it in the trend of social reform in government, and in the establishment of placement bureaus in colleges and schools. Organizations, such as Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, Knights of Columbus, and the Scouts are all founded on the ideals of service. In business today, as evidenced for example in telephone, insurance, and banking advertisements, service to their customers is stressed as the main-spring of their policies. Turn back for a moment to the days of Tellson's Bank, which in "A Tale of Two Cities," Dickens describes as "the triumphant perfection of inconvenience,—very small, very dark, very ugly, very incommodious." Compare it with any of our Medford banks so obviously arranged for the depositor's convenience. Such changes would not have been possible had it not been for man's imagination, common sense, and courage, qualities that steer him to his choice of service. One must have imagination, "the ability to go outside oneself and take on the conditions of another mind," to develop a forceful personality. As Dr. Fosdick has said, "He must hold a picture in his mind of what he would like to be some day. If you picture yourself vividly as defeated, you will find victory impossible. Picture yourself as winning and that alone will help amazingly towards success. Do not picture yourself as anything and you will drift like a derelict."

Acknowledging that, in whatever choice we make for a life-work, we must recognize the call of service, we should fit our special gift into the needs of our time, and the needs of any time require service. Therefore, when we earnestly feel that in service for others lies our opportunity, we have placed our feet firmly on a stepping-stone. Such a stepping-stone leads to an active and successful life.

A generous service comes as a result of noble character, and nobility of character is frankly and clearly associated with faith. Man must have faith in himself and in God in order to give fully of his talents. Life teaches us faith—faith that the sun will rise tomorrow, that the seed sown will grow to blossom, that the boy of today paves the way of the future; and born of this faith is that which strengthens man's faith in himself. Without it Grenfell could not have brought life and hope and joy to the ice-bound folk of Labrador. He was a graduate physician whose adventurous spirit prompted him to become a missionary. You remember the vivid stories of his sacrifices in erecting hospitals, co-operative stores, factories, orphan homes, and schools, benefitting the physical, social, and economic conditions of the seamen of the north-east coast.

Men like Grenfell prove to us the inestimable value of leaders who direct service to noble ends. My second point, therefore, is a reminder that we should choose a leader wisely. Such a leader was King Arthur, whose Knights of the Round Table rose to great achievements as long as they were unitedly bound to the service of God through their king. Great leaders have ever inspired great service. Unwise leaders have brought those who served them to ineffable sorrow. So it is that we find the disillusioned Cardinal Wolsey, who had given everything he had to the whims of King Henry VIII, crying bitterly in the hour of his downfall, "Had I but served my God with half the zeal I served my King, he would not in my age have left me to mine enemies."

Generally in wise leadership is found a strong personality. Dr. Fosdick has said, in developing personality we must not only have imagination but also common sense and straight or purposeful thinking—thinking in terms of service. It is this kind of thinking that inspired Doctor George Washington Carver, renowned for his chemical wizardry, to develop from the common, ordinary peanut nearly three hundred useful products, including cheese, candies, linoleum, face powder, and even axle grease! From the sweet potato he has made more than one hundred products, among them vinegar, shoe blacking, and molasses. His success shows that when you use the common tools of life in an uncommon way, to make them serve our human needs, you will command the attention of the world. Experts say that this solitary humble negro has done more than any other living man to rehabilitate agriculture in the South—that same South which had worked him as a slave for so many years. The story goes that when he was but a baby in a rude slave cabin, night riders carried him away, taking not the slightest care of him. Finally he was traded by his master for a broken-down horse. Later in life, for his scientific research work, he became invaluable to Tuskegee Institute and to the world. On one occasion, a peanut-grower in Florida sent him diseased specimens of peanuts, asking what was wrong, and how to cure them. After giving the correct treatment, he received a check for $100. The famous doctor sent this back, saying that God didn't charge anything for growing the peanut, and that he didn't charge anything for curing it.

Strong and influential personalities have characterized people who have given service unstintingly for others, and such have had the kind of faith that produces courage. What better illustration of courage can we cite than the story of that little group of American medical men in Cuba, who subjected themselves to the dangers of death to conquer the dreaded disease of yellow fever? No material compensation would be sufficient to reward these men. As for that, could all the money in the world pay Grenfell for establishing a healthful settlement for the people in Labrador? Or pay Pasteur for the lives he has saved? Or reward the patient negro for giving new means of livelihood to the Southern farmers? Such men are bigger than money can buy, and find their reward in the satisfaction of service well rendered.

Neatly the situation is summed up in the words of Dr. Fosdick, "If a man is primarily after wealth, the world can whip him; if he is primarily after pleasure, the world can beat him; but, if a man is primarily developing character through his services to humanity, then he can capitalize anything that life does to him and gain lasting happiness."

SUMMARY

MEDFORD 1 — STONEHAM 3

Coach Lang sent his team into the first game of the season against the defending champion Stoneham team. The Stoneham sextet found the Mystic Mytes tough for two periods but finally in the third period Stoneham's Cliff Thompson broke loose to score two goals. Jack Riley saved Medford from a shutout by scoring late in the third period.

MEDFORD 4 — NEWTON 0

Captain Stanley, ace winger, led his team to a well deserved victory over a scrappy Newton six. "Pidgie" Hughes contributed two goals, while Stanley and Riley each shared the honors for the two remaining goals.

MEDFORD 4 — ARLINGTON 4

The Blue and White hockey sextet played a bang-up game for two and a half periods, but a game Arlington team tied the score within a few minutes before the last period ended.

MEDFORD 2 — BELMONT 1

Medford defeated Belmont in a game which lacked the thrills of the usual Medford and Belmont games. Belmont played its best game of the year against a bewildered Medford six for two periods, but in the third period Stanley and Carroll each chalked a marker, Carroll's coming ten seconds before the final bell.

BOYS' HOCKEY TEAM

M.H.S.

MEDFORD 5 — CAMBRIDGE LATIN 1

The Blue and White defeated the Cambridge Latin sextet in a decisive manner. Medford's first line of Carroll, Southwick, and Stanley accounted for four of the goals, while Riley contributed the fifth. Meoli in the Medford nets was outstanding, stopping everything that Cambridge could offer.

MEDFORD 0 — RINDGE TECH 0

Although Medford played its usual fast game, it ran against some unusual strong opposition from a less potential team. Charles Stanley and Al Southwick had the breaks but were stopped by goalie, Sullivan.

MEDFORD 7 — MELROSE 2

Medford ran rough-shod over a usually powerful Melrose six. Medford's first line of Carroll, Southwick, and Stanley scored five of the seven goals, with Riley and McPherson each scoring one of the two remaining goals.

MEDFORD 2 — ARLINGTON 1

Medford, taking no chances of Arlington repeating what it had done a few weeks prior to this game, watched every move carefully and as a result, defeated Arlington in a beautifully played game, packed with thrills throughout. Captain Stanley put his team into the lead midway through the initial period, and Carroll scored two minutes later from a pass from Southwick. Meoli verified Coach Lang's claim of being the best goalie in the league by making marvelous saves of hard shots.

MEDFORD 0 — NEWTON 0

Medford was held to a scoreless tie by a scrappy Newton six which rose to unusual heights in a very crucial game. By tying, Medford lost all hope of gaining first place in the league standing.

MEDFORD 1 — STONEHAM 3

The Champion Stoneham High hockey team beat Medford for the second time this season by the score of 3 to 1. This game was one of the fastest and most thrilling games played during the whole season. Johnny Meoli, best goalie in the league, played wonderfully and deserved better fate, but his team-mates fought gamely throughout, trying to gain a victory. The following players from the Medford team were chosen to play in the All-Star games at the close of the regular season: Meoli, Stanley, Carroll, Southwick, Dixon.

Last fall Coach Brooks had much material from which to choose a football team. In this group were the following men:

Leslie Bennett, our captain, suffered a severe injury to his leg in the very first game which prevented his playing the rest of the season. He played his first game well and doubtless would have continued to do the same had he been able. Because of an injury we also lost the services of the only veteran, our fullback, Jim Dwyer.

Ed Dugger, guarded the right end of the line and was a consistent player, putting all he possessed into playing his part on our team. Beside Dugger, played Frank Squires at right tackle. He, too, played well, in opening up the opposing team's line and in keeping it from going through ours. Frank, a junior, will return to play again next year. That short, stocky fellow, Leo McCabe, was next in line at right guard. He cooperated with the rest of the team in a fine manner, going about his work in a sportsmanlike way.

At the pivot position was Tom Stapleton, the third in his family to play football for Medford High School. Tom, a good center, was a game, determined player who will also return next fall. Next to Tom played genial Pat Carvotta. Carvotta did his best as left guard, plunging and pushing his way through to aid the ball carrier. Our right tackle, Ray Valas, played real football in a spunky manner. Rather quiet but popular, Ray was chosen to lead the Blue and White Team next fall. The last man in this line was John Anderson. Through his perseverance, he prevented the opposing team from sweeping around his end and will do the same again next year.

TENNIS CLUB

The men responsible for this team deserve to be congratulated. Coach Brooks should be commended for teaching his boys to play fine clean football. Coach Phelan is to be thanked for the line he developed. His strong defensive lines are always well known. Lastly, Coach O'Connor deserves gratitude for training most of these boys before they joined the varsity squad, also for scouting Medford's opponents.

The Medford High Tennis Club opened its season of active competition at Haverhill, on May 5, 1937, losing the contest 5 to 2. Medford failed to win any singles match but succeeded in winning two of the doubles.

The matches scheduled for the remainder of the season are with the Tufts College Freshmen, Salem, Boston Latin, Newton, Lynn English, Roxbury Memorial, Revere, and Brookline.

The team holds its practice sessions and all its home matches at the West Medford Tennis Club's Courts and welcomes any enthusiastic supporters who will cheer it on to victory.

SUMMARY

Medford ..... 1 — Belmont ..... 2

Coach Al Lang's boys entered this fray minus Captain Fichera, and the rest of his squad was riddled with injuries. Although beaten, the team put up a great fight against a more conditioned Belmont eleven.

Medford ..... 2 — Lexington ..... 1

The Blue and White won this game in a more decisive manner than the score shows. Dom Augliera was the shining star by his great offensive and defensive play.

Medford ..... 4 — Malden ..... 1

Captain Fichera led his boys to a decisive win over their arch rivals, but again the squad was weakened by the absence of John DiGangi, star halfback.

Medford ..... 3 — Watertown ..... 0

The Blue and White entered this battle in a fighting mood, and as a result defeated a strong Watertown eleven. John Meoli, Bud Fichera, Dom Augliera, and Nick DelNinno, who was in the goal for Medford, were shining stars the whole afternoon.

Medford ..... 1 — Belmont ..... 1

The Blue and White was held again to a deadlock by a strong Belmont eleven. This game was packed with thrills for a full hour. Belmont drew first blood in the second period, and Dom Augliera tied the count in the dying minutes of the last period. Nick DelNinno, the great Medford goalie, saved many a point score by making great saves of labelled points.

Medford ..... 2 — Lexington ..... 1

Medford again defeated Lexington in a game which saw the tide first turning to one team and then the other. This game was close throughout, and the outcome was not certain until the final whistle was blown.

Medford ..... 5 — Malden ..... 0

Captain Fichera led his team to a well-earned victory over a less potential Malden eleven. Captain Fichera himself was also the star by scoring three goals. It is interesting to note at this time that the Golden Tornado had yet to gain a victory over Medford in eight games which had been played thus far by the two teams.

Medford ..... 0 — Watertown ..... 1

Medford suffered its first whitewash of the season at the hands of a powerful Red and Black team. This defeat was disheartening, not only because of the whitewashing, but also because it meant losing the championship. Captain Fichera and Dom Augliera who played their last game of Soccer for the Blue and White fought vainly until the last whistle to gain a victory in the last game of their thrill-a-minute career.

Indoor Track

Coach ..... M. ARTHUR NOBLE
 Captains ..... CAUFIELD TWOMEY, EDWARD DUGGER, JR.
 Manager ..... EDWARD DESTEFANO

Two members of the class of 1937 stand out in the success of the Medford High School Track Team during the indoor season. These two boys are Edward Dugger and Caufield Twomey, hurdler and 300 yarder respectively. In addition to these two boys, other members of the class of 1937 whose efforts as tracksters contributed to a fine indoor season are Joseph Granfield, 1000 yarder; Frank McDewell, 600 yarder and relay; Gabriel Sena, 600 yarder; James Sullivan, 600 yarder; William Yelland, high jumper; and Fred Monagle, relay.

ALUMNI 36 1-2 — M. H. S. 31 1-2

The indoor season opened on New Year's Day as usual with the High School Team meeting the "old grads." The "old boys" proved a little too spry for the youngsters, winning by the margin of the relay, the last event of a very exciting meet. The High School Relay Four forced the Alumni to a new relay record to eke out its victory. "Eddie" Dugger with 11 points and "Coffee" Twomey with 5 1-2 points were the high scorers for the high school; whereas Eddie Howard, a junior at Bates, and Ray Henderson of Northeastern, were the stand-outs for the Alumni.

NEWTON 52 1-3 — MEDFORD 24 2-3

Medford picked a Tartar in its second tangle of the season in the powerful Newton outfit. The only consolation Medford can derive from the severe trouncing it received is that Newton's other opponents were more decisively beaten later. Dugger and Twomey proved the bright spots in a rather gloomy scene.

MEDFORD 47 — HUNTINGTON 21

The Medford boys had little trouble in disposing of this prep school. Warren Evans, the diminutive indoor captain-elect for 1938, shared with Eddie Dugger the high-scoring honors.

MEDFORD 50 1-2 — MALDEN 26 1-2

The Malden team greatly weakened by the graduation of its outstanding performers of 1936 and consisting largely of willing but inexperienced sophomores, was no match for Medford in the annual get-together of these traditional friendly enemies. Medford won first places in every event except the shot-put and 1000 yard run.

NORTHEASTERN INTERSCHOLASTICS

By virtue of Eddie Dugger's victory in the hurdles and a very good relay team consisting of Twomey, Herlihy, McDewell, and Dugger, Medford placed fourth in this first big open meet of the season.

BROCKTON 46 5-6 — MEDFORD 30 1-6

Medford traveled to Brockton to be treated to a drubbing by their hosts, Brockton High School. Eddie Dugger helped take the sting out of defeat by proving the outstanding performer of the meet with victories in the dash, high jump, and broad jump.

EASTERN SEABOARD RELAY CARNIVAL

Medford placed fourth in the Newswriters Carnival at the Boston Garden. In doing so it had the great satisfaction of thrice defeating two of its neighbors, Malden and Everett. The boys who made up the victorious quartets were Victor Clemente, Warren Evans, Fred Monagle, Walter Sherwood, Edward Dugger, Frank McDewell, Richard Herlihy, Caulfield Twomey, Joseph Granfield, Amando Moschella, Joe Solomon, and James Sullivan.

MEDFORD 39 — ANDOVER J. V.'s 29

As a preparation of the Andover Interscholastics, Medford met the Andover Junior Varsity team at the Case Memorial Cage. The High School Team won convincingly with first places in six of eight events, Dugger in the hurdles and high jump, Evans in the dash, Twomey in the 300, McDewell in the 600, Granfield in the 1000.

TRACK TEAM

ANDOVER INTERSCHOLASTICS

With Dugger's first in the hurdles and second in the broad jump, Twomey's third in the 300, and a relay four composed of the above-mentioned plus "Ike" Evans and Frank McDewell who scored three important digits, Medford placed fourth at the annual interscholastic meet at Andover Academy with thirteen points.

STATE MEET

Medford placed third, behind Boston English and Newton, in the annual State Meet at the Boston Garden with fifteen points. Again a hurdle victory by Eddie Dugger plus his second in the broad jump, "Coffee" Twomey's second in a very close 300, and a relay four made up of Dugger, Twomey, Evans, and Monagle, which scored four points in beating Malden, made Medford's total of fifteen points.

BOWDOIN INTERSCHOLASTICS

A trip to the Bowdoin Interscholastics at Brunswick, Maine was sanctioned by the school authorities as a result of the successful indoor season. The four boys who made the trip seemed to appreciate the privilege and nearly won the meet from the very strong and numerous Nott Terrace School of Schenectady, N. Y. Medford's 21 points were won by Eddie Dugger, "Coffee" Twomey, "Ike" Evans, and Frank McDewell, who comprised the entire team. Eddie's contribution was a first in the hurdles and broad jump and a first in the 300; and the four together won first place in the relay. Nott Terrace, with a team of twenty-two boys, won the meet with 22 1-3 points.

The letter men of the indoor season are as follows: V. Clemente, '38; E. Dugger, '37; W. Evans, '38; J. Granfield, '37; R. Herlihy, '38; F. Monagle, '37; F. McDewell, '37; C. Twomey, '37, Capt.; E. DeStefano, '37, Manager.

Outdoor Track

WORCESTER INTERSCHOLASTICS

A full team journeyed to the annual interscholastic meet held under the direction of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. In this meet Medford placed fifth behind Lowell, the winner, Newton, Worcester Commerce, and Worcester North. Capt. "Eddie" Dugger continued where he left off indoors by winning both high and low hurdle races, and equaling the record in the former event. "Coffee" Twomey contributed a good fourth in the 440.

LAWRENCE 41 1-2 — MEDFORD 35 1-2

In the first dual meet of the season Lawrence defeated Medford by the margin of the relay. Capt. Dugger with 15 points and "Coffee" Twomey with 10 did their best to bring home a victory.

QUADRANGULAR MEET

The third meet of the current outdoor season was a quadrangular tilt which included Medford, Brockton, Lowell, and Newton. With regret, it is recorded that in this meet Medford finished a poor fourth with 11 1-4 points. These were won by Dugger victories in the hurdles and 220, and a fourth in the 440 by Twomey, plus the fractional point by Martis and Price in a multiple fourth place tie in the high jump.

BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Basketball

Led by an inspiring leader in Captain "Ted" Cervone and flanked by such fine players as Ray Valas, Jim Dwyer, Dom Augliera, Frank Marko, and Nick Del Nino, the Medford High Basketball Team of 1937 was able to set a standard for future teams. This was the first year of coaching basketball at Medford for Herbert L. Collins. After an absence of five years from active coaching, Mr. Collins did a splendid piece of work and directed the team through a fine schedule into the Tech Tournament, the goal of all high school basketball teams.

Due to inexperience and nervousness, the team lost to Chelsea by the score of 28-22. Then in quick succession Woburn, Revere, and Arlington were defeated.

Somerville came next with a highly favored team. It lived up to its reputation by winning 40-22. Everett, Woburn, and Arlington followed and each was defeated by a close score.

Chelsea came to Medford and again sent our team down to defeat by the score of 25-22. Everett and Revere were met and defeated in return games.

|---------------|----|---|---------------|----|
| Medford ..... | 31 | — | Everett ..... | 23 |
| Medford ..... | 46 | — | Revere .....  | 25 |

The last game of the season was against Somerville at Somerville. Due to the previous defeat, our team was considered already beaten. But the spirit of our boys was excellent, and our team closed its regular season with a fine win 29-27. The team then received an invitation to the Tech Tournament. Meeting the ultimate winners in the first round, we were eliminated by Lowell from further competition by the score of 47-25. The increased spirit and morale was the most noticeable achievement of this year's team. The boys worked together for the good of the team, and the results prove that this is the one road to a successful season.

MEDFORD 9 — LAWRENCE 8

Medford High officially opened the 1937 baseball season April 19, at Lawrence, with a 9-8 victory over Lawrence High in ten innings. "Eddie" Hughes started off on the mound for the Blue and White, working four innings. He was relieved by "Al" Bennett, who pitched the remaining six innings, allowing but three hits and one run.

MEDFORD 6 — RINDGE TECH 3

The team won its second game of the season when it combined seven hits with three bases on balls, and five enemy errors to defeat Rindge Tech, 6-3. The victorious Medford battery consisted of "Eddie" Hughes and "Franny" Glynn.

MEDFORD 11 — MALDEN CATHOLIC 4

The Blue and White nine then recorded its third consecutive victory at the expense of Malden Catholic, with four runs in the first inning, and continued its rampage during the rest of the game. "Al" Bennett annexed his second win of the season, allowing only five hits.

MEDFORD 13 — CHELSEA 11

The baseball team continued its winning streak and defeated Chelsea High at the Fulton Street Field by a score of 13-11. This was Medford's first home game of the season and offered the fans a chance to see good material.

MEDFORD 3 — MALDEN 4

On Friday, May 7, Medford suffered its first defeat in five games at the hands of its traditional enemy—Malden. Medford was leading until the eighth inning, but Malden managed to force over three runs to win in the tenth inning.

The Varsity Basketball Team of 1937, under the supervision of Miss Myra Luce and the leadership of Captain Yolanda Zani, had a very successful season. The team played in seven games, and was victorious in all but two. The Watertown girls defeated Medford at Watertown by one point. Arlington High won with a score of 22 to 17.

Captain Zani contributed much to the success of the team with her excellent passing and continual alertness. A great deal of the credit goes to the sharp-eyed high scorer, Marion Malatesta, and to the team work of her associate forwards, Elizabeth Wendt and Kathleen O'Kane. It was, however, through the close guarding of Margaret Robinson, Rita Buckley, and Audrey Costello that the girls succeeded in keeping the scores of the opposing teams down. The splendid co-operation of Captain Zani and Olive Coolidge in the center allowed the forwards many chances to score. On the whole, this year's team has made a better showing than previous teams.

The season in sports for the girls of Medford High School started off with Field Hockey. The popularity of the sport was shown by the large number who started practice. The number was decreased to forty, of which thirty received awards. The awards were given to the girls who had played in three of the five games of the season: "M's" for first team participants; numerals for the second team.

The schedule started October eighth with Watertown, a difficult assignment. Because of the lack of a proper field here, the girls traveled to that city. The game was lost by a score of three to nothing, but it was not a complete loss, for it gave the girls experience. There also was a great deal of good defense work displayed.

The second game of the season, October fourteenth, ended in a victory from Cheverus High School of Malden. The score was two to one, with Marion Malatesta making both goals for Medford.

And again at Woburn the score was three to nothing; this time also in favor of our opponents. The next week we went to Arlington. After a closely fought game displaying good technique and sportsmanship on both sides, Arlington emerged with the spoils by a score of one to nothing.

In close succession a game with Malden High School followed. By triumphing over them with a score of three to two, we ended the season with a victory. Marion Malatesta took the scoring laurels, but her scores were made possible by the excellent passing of Kathleen O'Kane and Priscilla Darling, while Captain Rita Buckley and Louise Milne held down Malden's score by their good defense work.

Afterword

As life moves on and we look back
 At days that are no more,
 Within these pages we may bridge
 The gulf to that far shore.

As passing years our memories dull,
 And time demands its toll,
 Within these covers we shall find
 The thought that was our goal.
